WAKEMED HEART CENTER PRESENTS

HEART FAILURE

reducing hospital readmissions.

Heart Failure is a common and growing medical problem associated with major morbidity and mortality. Evidence-based therapies improve outcomes, but managing complex patients can be challenging for clinicians. This year's symposium will focus on reducing readmissions for Heart Failure.

Target Audience

Physicians (Family Practice, Internal Medicine, Cardiology), Physician Assistants, Nurse Practitioners, Nurses and Pharmacists

Objectives

At the conclusion of this educational activity, participants should be able to:

- Describe the key elements of current health care reform legislation and its impact on the management of heart failure patients.
- Discuss the management of co-morbidities in patients with heart failure: Chemotherapy and Depression.
- Outline optimal guideline-based therapeutic options for exercise training in heart failure patients.
- Describe strategies for effective management of complex heart failure patients.
- Outline the strategies for transitioning patients from inpatient to outpatient care in order to reduce hospital readmissions.
